WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP) — The Supreme Court granted the Government's plea for a speedy ruling in the coal case today and agreed to decide another question of vital interest to John L. Lewis too - the unionization of foremen.

The court approved the Government's motion to bypass the Circuit Court of Appeals and "authoritatively settle" the legality of Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough's restraining order against Lewis "in view of the public interest involved," even though the strike was over and most of the miners returned to work during the day.

It set the case for argument Jan. 14. Its decision could come any Monday after then and it probably will be delivered well ahead of the April 1 deadline Lewis mentioned for a possible new walkout in ordering the 400,000 miners back to work Saturday to end a 17-day strike.

The matter of unionizing foremen has been a stumbling block to negotiation of a contract between Lewis and the private mine owners which would permit the Government to relinquish control of the pits. The operators have been determined to await a Supreme court ruling before yielding on this point.

Mrs. Miriam Green Slain In Bedroom of Apartment

Strangled to death with a strip of cloth from a woman's dress, the body of Mrs. Miriam Green, attractive 27-year-old divorcee, was found on the blood-spotted bed of her first-floor apartment at 358 Chestnut street early yesterday afternoon.

Confronted with one of the most brutal murders in history here, Pottstown police and Montgomery county authorities immediately started an intensive investigation which last night had brought at least four persons under questioning.

Shortly after midnight, Chief of Police James A. Laughead announced that George W. Green, 612 North Price street, 35-year-old ex-husband of the victim, and an Army veteran, and Gerald Wentzel, Kenilworth, were being held in the borough jail for further questioning.

Wentzel's picture was found in the wallet of Mrs. Green in her apartment, The dark-haired young victim, an autopsy disclosed, had been dead at least 24 hours when her body was discovered by Mrs. John Hoffman, 358 Chestnut street. Mrs. Hoffman said she looked into the open door of the downstairs apartment about 1:30 p.m. and saw Mrs. Green's body on the bed.

A call to William E. Boalton, owner of the small but modern stucco apartment building, brought George W. Renninger, 334 Chestnut street, to the scene to investigate.

He found the body lying on the bed in a normal sleeping. position. The victim was dressed only in a camel's hair coat. and blue socks. She wore no under clothing. Blood streamed from her mouth and nose, the effects of strangulation.

Mrs. Hoffman said that other neighborhood residents had previously noticed the open door to the Green apartment, but had not investigated. Neighbors said that they knew Mrs. Green only casually, that they were not acquainted with her habits or any of her friends. Renninger summoned police and Chief Laughead and Patrolman Harold E. Hahn arrived at the scene in a patrol Mrs. Hoffman told police that members of her family had gone to bed at 12:15 a.m. the previous night and had heard nothing to attract their attention below. Later, about

3 a.m., she said she awakened to open windows, having felt the effects of excessive heat. The Hoffman apartment had become overheated, police theorized, when cold air flooded through the open front door into the Green apartment. Since the building's heat is controled by a thermostat in the lower apartment, the cold air had forced the heating system into almost continuous oper-Police said there were no indications that Mrs. Green had put up a struggle for her life. The bed clothing, although spotted with blood, was not unduly disturbed and a purse of the victim was on a dresser, together with a Police called Dr. William L Franck, who ordered the body removed to Homeopathic hospital in a Good Will ambulance. The woman had died some time earlier, however, an autopsy later revealed.

Give a Gift For the Yank Who Gave

The membership of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary, ever mindful of its obligation to the disabled veterans confined in the hospitals throughout the country, once again is planning for the annual presentation of Gifts to the Yanks who gave.

Department Commander Clyde E. Rankin is most anxious that an opportunity be afforded to the citizens of this great Commonwealth to express that appreciation which he knows is felt for these disabled veterans confined in the many institutions, and he has invited the public to participate in this activity.

In past years, this activity took the form of collecting packages from the Legion's 800 posts and 600 units of the Auxiliary. While in the past this was most satisfactory, present shortages of certain items usable by these veterans have made it necessary to change the plan.

This year it has been determined to raise a fund from which these gifts will be purchased and an urgent appeal is being made to the Legion membership and the public to make cash contributions through the local Legion post or to the American Legion Headquarters in Harrisburg.

Zionist President Hits Federalization By ERNEST G. FISCHER

BASEL, Switzerland, Dec. 9 (A) -The children made the toys as Dr. Chaim Weizmann called upon of a Jewish nation "side by side with the Arab nations.'

> He declared, however, that "one alternative" would be a return to the British mandate "as it was conceived by those who drew it up a return to a period of free immigration, limited only by the capacity of the country.' In his speech as president open> ing the 22d Congress the aging Jewish leader assailed "terrorists" n the Holy Land as "morally abhorrent and also barren of advantage" in achieving Zionist goals. "Irresponsible groups, who ar-rogate to themselves the right to involve a whole people in the responsibility for their undisciplined acts, are gambling with the Jewish future," he declared.

In referring to the so-called Morrison plan for Palestine which had been proposed by the British-American experts; Dr Weizmann

"We reject it both in principle and detail. In principle because t is neither a final solution, nor one which establishes the Jewish people in political independence."
